

Remote Health Support Service

Affinity Senior Care is able to offer remote health monitoring and support, for anyone in their own home. We can assist you with health measure devices for your blood pressure, heart rate, weight, oxygen and blood glucose levels.

You and your family can be confident and have peace of mind knowing that a trained clinician is monitoring your health.

Your Clinical Partner can discuss your observations and results with you, coordinate services, send reports to your local doctor and provide you with information to optimise your health.

We provide our clients with access to an 'app' designed to provide a consistent mobile interface between a client and clinician that can be used anywhere, at any time and available on Android and iOS.

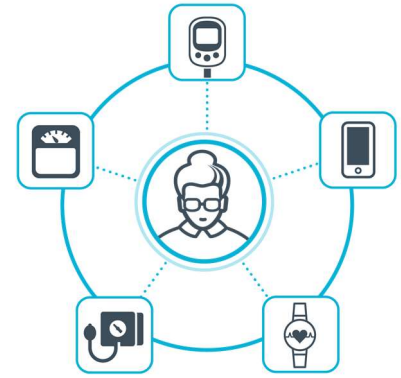

How does it work?

The Integrated Care Platform (ICP) enables clients to complete health interviews, view their monitoring plan, review their vital signs and activity trends, send messages and video conference their clinician.

If a person's vital sign readings or health interview results are outside clinically established limits, notifications will be sent to their care team.
